HISTORY

"Winter Ale" covers a broad spectrum of beers in the marketplace. They can be brewed with a heavy hand of spices, be malt driven, or be hop forward with a strong malt back bone. In any case, these beers are brewed to celebrate the winter season. They are best enjoyed next to a warm fire, after a powder day on the mountain, and are perfect for the holiday season. pFriem Winter Ale is hop forward, filled with juicy aromas, and balanced by rich maltiness.

FOOD PAIRINGS

Holiday cakes and bread. Roast turkey, cranberry stuffing, glazed ham with roasted potatoes, and pan roasted sablefish. Baked apples, pear chutney, holiday pies, and vegetables.

TASTING NOTES

Bright tawny amber with an off-white head. Fruity aroma with a touch of spice; wafting of fresh baked fruitcake with a touch of spruce. Rich bold flavors of hops and malt meld with a touch of orange zest and huckleberries. The finish leaves the mouth covered with a trace of caramel, cut by an assertive hoppiness.
